MANY PETITIONS FOR WATER AT REGULAR COUNCIL MEETING

Quite a number of important matters were considered by the city council at the meeting held last Monday, when all members of the council were present to attend the regular monthly session for November.

One of the first propositions to be considered by the council was presented by Dr. E. G. Ferris, Comrade A. Kiplinger and W. S. Weatherston, who asked that the council refund the amount of the taxes assessed against the G. A. R. hall and remove the assessment on the books for this year. It was pointed out that the hall was used mostly for veterans and that it was not run for profit. The committee stated that there was still some indebtedness on the hall and that all the revenue from the hall went towards paying the indebtedness. After some discussion the council voted to cancel the tax certificate that stands against the hall for last year, and leave any future assessment to whoever might be on the council when the matter comes up again. It was pointed out by the city attorney that the assessor has no right to fail to list the property, but that afterward the council could cancel or repay the amount of the tax assessed if it so desired.

Mrs. Cathcart appeared before the council and asked that steps be taken to compel property owners adjoining her property to cut the weeds, as she deemed the conditions now existing a menace to health.

W. S. Weatherston appeared before the council in reference to an assessment for connecting to the city water mains. Mr. Weatherston stating that he had paid plumber Triplett for the work, but it developed from letters from the plumber that he had made no charge for the tapping and Mr. Weatherston was informed that that he would have to pay the $14 the same as all other persons had paid. He said he wanted to do what was right, but that he thought he had paid the plumber when the work was done.

Comrade Manypenny appeared before the council to ask for water connections at his home on Massachusetts avenue, and was informed what the charges for tapping the mains would be.

Comrade Kaufman appeared before the council asking for water extension on North Ohio avenue, and was informed that if sufficient number of property owners would agree to connect to an extension that the work would be done as soon as it could be reached. The charge for tapping and running the water line to the property line would be $14.

Comrade N. W. Ferguson appeared before the council in regard to water extension on Pennsylvania avenue, and offered to get a new petition to have the property owners agree to connect with the extension.

A petition was presented asking for an extension of the water line on South Ohio. This was filed for attention along with other work.

Mrs. Peckham appeared and asked that she be granted a widow's exemption on her tax assessment.

Discussing the many water extensions called for, the council decided to have petitions prepared for future use in which the property owners desiring the water mains should agree to take service and pay $14 each for the tapping connections, the payment to come in with the petition, which would prevent delays in such matters when a sufficient number asks for the service.

Comrade J. W. Smith appeared before the council and asked for water extension to 7th and Kentucky avenue. This was laid over with other like petitions.

Comrade A. W. Lathrop presented a petition for water extension to 7th and Missouri avenue.

John Armstrong was present at the council meeting and asked the council to allow his bill for several days he worked as deputy marshal under Marshal Cathcart. The council took no action because Mr. Armstrong's appointment was never presented to the council at the time.

Mrs. Lula Atwood requested allowance of the widow's exemption, which was granted.

A discussion was had on the question of establishing a white way system of lights in the business section and it was decided that if the property owners and business men would buy single globe light poles of metal, the council would install such poles and furnish the lights and a equipment for a system to embrace Tenth street from Cobb's garage, Massachusetts avenue to Florida avenue at the city hall; on eleventh street from the G. A. R. hall to Florida avenue, between Tenth street and Eleventh street. Four poles to be set, one at each corner and two poles in the middle of each block. This outlay would provide for about 52 ornamental metal poles and would make the business section the best lighted of any city in this section. The matter was referred to Councilman Chunn to ascertain the wishes of the business people in the matter. The poles when bought through the city in lots of 25 or more can be secured at a reasonable price, ranging from $25 each to $50 each, according to the number of lamps to be carried.

City Clerk Fred B. Kenney presented an annual report of the collections made by his office from November 1, 1918, to October 31, 1919, which was read and filed. The report showed the following collections:

Council then recessed until next Monday.

EVEN OUT OF TOWN FOLKS HELPED START CLAN UP WORK

This is a sample of letters being sent to various persons in this city by non-resident property owners, or St. Cloud people who were away from home when the clean up work started:

"Can you find how much it would cost me to have my three lots cleared of weeds and grass, and after they are cleaned what will it cost to have them plowed?"

"I want to do my share in keeping the city property in shape for the winter."

"Lots of our people will come to Florida this winter. * * * Florida will have the largest crowd ever known."

"Success to St. Cloud."

SPECIAL MUSICAL INSTRUCTOR FOR THE VETERANS' MINSTRELS

Within a few days a special musical instructor will arrive from Tampa to complete the work of organization of the Veterans' Minstrel Band. Rehearsals for which are held each night. Special costumes are expected to arrive some time next week, and work of putting on the finishing touches will be on in earnest by that date.

It is now thought that the first show to the public may be staged by Thanksgiving, but from the elaborate preparations being made the public will profit by the short postponement of the opening date.

Added to the already fine program of singers will be Joe Cathcart, who returned from duty in the navy during the week. Joe has been heard near before in solo selections, and during his absence in the navy has taken advantage of every opportunity to improve his singing.

Much interest is being shown in view of the fact that funds from the performance will go toward paying off the debt on the G. A. R. hall, an institution in which hundreds of people hold small shares.

By next week it is hoped to have the program completed and an announcement made through the Tribune of the complete outline.

To give to producers and others information regarding actual cotton prices in their local or nearby important markets, the Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture is inaugurating a cotton price quotation service and will issue reports from five important points in the cotton belt. Cottonseed prices also will be covered.

The first report is to be issued from Memphis, Tenn., for the district immediately surrounding that point; other reports will follow from district headquarters at Atlanta, Ga., New Orleans, Charlotte, N. C., and Dallas, Texas, for the territory immediately surrounding each of these points.

The United States Senate An Editorial Contribution By a Tribune Reader Who Has Been a Close Observer of the Treaty Fight

Tuesday was Armistice day. One year ago that day hostilities in the great World war ceased. Some weeks afterward the Peace Conference assembled at Versailles. After about five months' deliberation the Peace treaty of Versailles was completed and signed by the representatives of the powers which had been at war, including Germany. The Chinese commissioners at the Peace Conference alone refused to sign.

Then the several powers referred the treaty to their respective legislative bodies for ratification. Germany was the first to ratify. Then followed among the great powers Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan. Most of the smaller nations ratified the treaty soon afterward.

Of the great powers, the United States alone has not ratified the treaty. President Wilson returned to the United States early in the summer and soon after submitted the treaty to the Senate for ratification.

What Have They Done?

While President Wilson was in Versailles working on the Peace Treaty and trying to construct a basis for world peace, some Republican senators seemed to be trying to find a political issue somewhere, and some of them seemed to think they had found it in the Peace Treaty. Before they got a copy of the treaty they did not like it. They saw all sorts of "spooks and goblins" in the treaty. They soon had their brains working in cycles much like a tornado and a great "Wind Storm" resulted. The "wind storm" and "brain storm" swept through the Senate, and from there all over the country. The Senate has managed to make a great storm, a "made-to-order" sort of storm.

But, is that all they have done? Not quite. They have managed to do some other things. Not constructive things, to be sure. In fact, we have searched diligently, and have failed to find a symptom of anything constructive in any of their words, thoughts or manners. Not one Republican senator has advanced any thought that would be classed as constructive. Furthermore, they have also failed to offer even one thought as to what they proposed to try to do in case they failed to ratify the Peace Treaty. Some one did say they would make a separate peace with Germany. But why should Germany do that when the other powers have ratified the treaty with her? Do they think Germany will consent to make better terms with us than with all of the powers together? (Perhaps they do not think—those Republican senators). It was suggested they would just declare the war over and let it go at that. What would Germany do then?

But they have done something, to be sure they have. They have raised a great wind storm all over the country, and while they have been about it the statesmen of the other nations have been busy getting into line for the business of the world.

Those wiseacre Republican senators have lost to the United States the leadership which the President brought to us, almost at the cost of his life, by over-work. They have also lost to us the respect of many of the nations of the earth. They have created a spirit of disgust for our form of government among the peoples of the earth who have been looking for some form of government best suited to their needs. They have managed to keep the United States out of the council of nations in this great reconstructive period, and have given the leadership which we had maintained into the hands of Great Britain. They have kept this country in a great turmoil and in an unsettled condition until civil strife has sprung up everywhere, and a most dangerous state of unrest has resulted. Oh yes, they have done something, those Republican senators. Why have they done it?

But, why have they "acted up" like this? Because they were statesmen? Their performances before the galleries and entire want of constructive statesmanship disproves such a thought. They have proven themselves to be the champion "knockers" in world affairs, and no more. But, why have they done so? To bring permanent peace? They have not even talked it.

The most any of them have ever dared to try to say about the "why" was that they were a prize sort of patriots, a special brand. Just so, but have they proved true to color?

The American people will be impatient and ask just such questions. Why have they done so? Why have they acted thus? Naturally this same American people look deeply into things, and try to get at the "thing back of the act," and once they discover what appears to be the real motive for such conduct, their mind is almost immediately made up.

Who are the arch opposers of the League of Nations and the Treaty of Peace? Chiefly Lodge, Knox and Borah. Where do they come from? Whom do they represent? What are their special interests in this "wind storm-brain storm" conduct. Lodge is from a state which manufactured vast stores of ammunition, and some of its leading business interests have enormous sums of money stored in munitions, and wars are necessary for their business.

Knox comes from a great steel producing state, and they make stuff for battleships and ammunition, and they also have enormous sums stored in warlike preparations.

Borah comes from a great copper producing state, and war makes a good market for copper.

Could this have anything to do with this matter? But, someone says, "Senator Reed is a Democrat, and is from Missouri!" And, permit us to state that Missouri has made some shoes for the soldiers of the late war and got a good price therefor.

It would be interesting to know if these same senators, who have raised such a "wind storm" from a "brain storm" and have done so much wind-lamming, after all, can prove they have no interest in those great manufacturing and mining enterprises which are such great powers in their respective states. Have they been corporation lawyers for some of those great concerns? These are interesting questions, and the American people will learn about them, will get at the heart of this matter, and make an answer next fall at the polls that will cause some wind-lamming senators to cease their assinine conduct.

It is a pitiable aspect to contemplate, that some would-be leaders of world affairs have done such irreparable damage and brought our great nation into contempt among the peoples of the earth, and brought to naught the immeasurable sacrifice of our brave men.

These same wind-lammers will be brought to a strict accountability when the American people get a whack at them.

NOVEMBER 27 SET ASIDE AS NATIONAL THANKSGIVING DAY

President Tells the People They Have Much To Be Thankful For

President Wilson on Wednesday issued a proclamation setting aside Thursday, November 27th, as Thanksgiving day. The proclamation is as follows: "By the President of the United States of America—a proclamation:

"The season of the year has again arrived when the people of the United States are accustomed to unite in giving thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which He has conferred on our country during the twelve months that have passed. A year ago our people heaved out their hearts in praise and thanksgiving that through divine aid the right was victorious and peace had come to the nations which had so courageously struggled in defense of human liberty and justice. Now that the stern task is ended and the fruits of achievement are ours, we look forward with confidence to the dawn of an era where the sacrifices of the nations will find recompense in a world at peace.

"But to attain the consummation of the great work to which the American people devoted their manhood and the vast resources of their country, they should, as they give thanks to God, re-consecrate themselves to those principles of right which triumphed through His merciful goodness. Our gratitude can find no more perfect expression than to hail with loyalty and patriotism those principles for which the free peoples of the earth fought and died.

"During the past year we have had much to make us grateful. In spite of the confusion in our economic life resulting from the war, we have prospered. Our harvests have been plentiful and of our abundance we have been able to render succor to less favored nations.

"Our democracy remains unshaken in a world torn with political and social unrest. Our traditional ideals are still our guides in the path of progress and civilization.

"Those great blessings, vouchsafed to us, for which we devoutly give thanks, should arouse us to a fuller sense of our duty to ourselves and to mankind to see to it that nothing we may do shall mar the completeness of the victory which we helped to win. No selfish purpose animated us in becoming participants in the world war, and with a like spirit of unselfishness we should strive to aid by our example and by our cooperation in realizing the enduring welfare of all peoples and in bringing into being a world ruled by friendship and good will.

"Wherefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, hereby designate Thursday, the 27th, day of November, next, for observance as a day of thanksgiving and prayer by my fellow-countrymen, inviting them to cease on that day from their ordinary tasks and to unite in their homes and in their several places of worship in ascribing praise and thanksgiving to God, the author of all blessings and the Master of our destinies.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia, this 5th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and nineteen, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and forty-fourth.

SOUTH FLORIDA FAIR AT TAMPA IN FEBRUARY

According to Howard Curry, field agent of the South Florida Fair, to be held at Tampa, Feb. 16 to 21, inclusive, practically every county in the southern part of the state, and some in other sections, will be represented in various exhibition buildings of the fair. Live stock exhibits are to be sent from other states for educational purposes, and Florida will also make a better showing in this department than ever before, says Mr. Curry. He makes the further statement that the boys' corn clubs and girls' canning clubs will have magnificent representation.

Mr. Curry, who is the agricultural agent of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, and who returned from trips to Chicago, Norfolk, and other points, declares that the visitation of home-seekers, investors and tourists to Florida this season will be unprecedentedly large. "Every indication," he said, "is that the close of the war will bring to South Florida an era of prosperity with which those of the past cannot compare." Industrial and Agricultural Agent Jesse M. Jones, of Norfolk, and his assistants, says Mr. Curry, are anxious to get the names of all farmers on the Seaboard system in Florida in order to get in personal touch with them through bulletins and otherwise, also information as to large tracts of land that are for sale, together with dependable data (not exaggerated stuff) as to the possibilities of all counties for publication in booklets.

The Atlantic Coast Line, Florida East Coast, Southern and other roads have also manifested after-war renewal of interests in Florida's development.

"Counties and individual producers not represented at the fair will be losers," Mr. Curry declares.

FOUR SEPARATE CITIES TO PROVIDE PART FLORIDA CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

Within a short time members of the Florida Centennial Exposition Commission will meet in executive session at the call of the chairman, W. G. Brorein of Tampa, to make preliminary plans for proceeding with the operation of the centennial exposition. The fact that the commission has decided on a four-city, four-part plan for the exposition will, it is believed, quickly meet general state-wide sanction. At the approaching meeting it is probable that first steps toward the formation of centennial organizations in the four parts which have been designated as sites will be authorized by the commission. The members of the commission are tion's share of the benefit. Plans of the commission—only tentatively expressed so far, however—are for an exposition, or expositions, decidedly in keeping with the importance of the event to be commemorated. The expositions will distinctly not be county or state affairs, and the commission has pledged itself to produce a creditable event of the whole. Under the adopted plan no one city will be called upon to raise a mammoth sum, and the commission did not feel to finance an undertaking of the magnitude of this celebration. Under the tentative plans of the commission each of the four designated cities—Pensacola, Jacksonville, Tampa and Miami—will be allowed to produce as large an exposition as the citizens desire and care to finance. The commission probably will supervise all of the units of the celebration. That more people will come to such an exposition, or series of expositions, than would be attracted by a one-city affair, is the belief of the commission, the members of which are certain that Florida as a whole will receive a great and lasting benefit from the centennial celebrated and observed in the way outlined.

PEPTO-MANGAN MAKES RED CHEEKS

Builds Up Tired Bodies—Helps Change Pale Complexions to Bloom of Health

The healthy, attractive woman—and man, too—with a wholesome complexion is the envy of those who feel that, for them, such attractiveness is impossible. And yet health and attractiveness are much a matter of good, red blood and unless a man or woman is afflicted with some deep-seated or serious ailment, vigorous health, and personal charm are within easy reach. Pepto-Mangan is responsible for the present health and happiness of thousands who formerly were thin, pale, languid and easily exhausted. Pepto-Mangan helped place these folks in the full-blooded, energetic, vigorous class—and it probably can do the same for you. Pepto-Mangan contains the elements that make rich, healthy blood. And as a result of the increased supply of red blood that Pepto-Mangan creates, the entire system attains the vigor that belongs to every man and woman. Pepto-Mangan is prepared in two forms, liquid and tablets. They are exactly alike in medicinal value. Ask your druggist for "Gude's" when ordering Pepto-Mangan. Look for the name "Gude's" on the package.

THE MICHIGAN ASSOCIATION

The Michigan Association met in Oak Grove Park on November 5, 1919, for an afternoon meeting with a goodly number present, many of whom had been away for the summer and some who were new comers. President Bullard called the meeting to order and all joined in singing American. Mrs. Frances R. Riley was called to the platform to act as secretary pro tem. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Mr. James Goff gave a report as treasurer pro tem, and turned the money over to the treasurer, Mrs. Bullard. The next in order was paying dues, as this was the beginning of another year. Sixteen members paid up, 50 cents a year, and George McFern, of Lawrence, Mich., and H. G. Lee, of Oxford, Mich., gave their names as new members.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was then taken up, which resulted as follows: President, C. C. Pike; Vice President, Mr. Mannypenny; Roe, Sec., Mrs. Frances R. Riley; Treasurer, Mrs. Bullard; Chaplain Mr. Mark Watson. It was decided to meet in December in the old G. A. R. Hall for dinner and the Post room for the program in the afternoon. Mrs. Whitbeck was appointed chairman of the program committee, and Mrs. Bullard and Mrs. Carrie Williams were chosen as managers for the dinner.

At this time it began to rain with a strong north wind which drove us in to the little house and several went home. Mrs. Whitbeck had charge of the program as follows: Reading by Mrs. Carrie Williams, "An Unusual Experience." Mrs. Wolfe read an article entitled, "Humor on the Farm." Song by Mr. Bullard, "Rock Me To Sleep." Reading by Mrs. Mannypenny, "How They Kept the Day." Reading by Mrs. Barrager, "The Pastor's Resignation." Frank Sinburne read a story about a little boy who wanted to go back to the Poor Farm. Reading by Mrs. Bullard, "Growing Old." Moved to adjourn, to meet in one month. Just a word of prayer closed a very interesting meeting. FRANCES R. RILEY, Sec.

THE MASSES AGAINST THE CLASSES.

(From The Ocala Banner)
Attorney General Van Swearingen, candidate for the highest office with in the gift of the people of Florida, states the basis of his platform to be the following:

"The masses against the classes." One has only to take a view of the unrest that is now disturbing many sections of the country; to ascertain how dangerous this creed is. It is undemocratic, it is unpatriotic, it is un-American. Calling attention to the new problems which confront the country, the secretary of labor issued a warning against this arraying one class against another class which he styles as "class imperialism."

We call the attention of Attorney General Van Swearingen to his warning: "Today," he said, "the rights of particular classes over other classes of the population are being preached in our streets, and appeals to selfishness and envy, and to ignorance, under the guise of justice, are being sent broadcast throughout the land. Apostles of unrest and even of revolution, as well as other less radical and more sincere taking advantage of the industrial and commercial confusion resulting from the war, are seeking converts to doctrines which aim to grant special privileges to certain groups of citizens and to deprive others of these private rights which are inseparable from the American conception of individual liberty."

"Democracy is in danger from within rather than from without the body politic," he declared. "Again, we Americans are called to the defense of an American principle which is being attacked not only in insidious face but by friends who fail to see the wrong which they are doing. We must meet this new attack with the same unyielding and courageous spirit as that with which our soldiers met the Germans on the soil of France."

"I believe," he continued, "that realization of the present danger will again call forth the best there is in this republic, and we will succeed in overcoming those who seek to pervert democracy by injecting into it a species of class imperialism which is more attractive than the ancient forms, because it appeals to those who have suffered in the past from injustice and from denial of that equality of opportunity which it is the duty of the democracy to maintain."

"The dangers, as I see them, are in a disposition to compromise the principles of equal rights with the demand of special rights, an apparent willingness to conciliate by concessions in order to avoid for the time being those evil conditions which threaten to result from the denial of class privileges; a timidity in meeting the issues squarely and boldly, pointing out in what way it menaces the idea of democracy, and last but by no means least, the tendency of many leaders of political thought to temporize with and placate certain elements in our population by accepting in a measure undemocratic doctrines which plainly violate the essential principle of the American political system."

"It must be recorded," he added, "that we 'made the world safe for democracy,' but that we failed to make America safe for democracy."

Sayings of Celebrities

Napoleon Bonapart: "How doth the little busy B improve each shining hour!"
Eve: "A little knowledge is a dangerous thing!"
Darwin: "I could a tail unfold!"
Lillian Russell: "A thing of beauty is a joy forever!"
Achilles: "Don't put your foot in it!"
Samson: "The most unkind cut of all!"

FLORIDA STATE FAIR SEASON'S BIG EVENT

The Florida State Fair and Exposition—the largest event of the kind in the Southeast this season, opens at Jacksonville on November 22 for eight days and will provide Floridians and others a who attend the best opportunity ever presented to view at a glance the entire resources of the State.

The fair will be attended by the largest crowds ever attending such an event in the Southern section of the United States and will offer many unusual features. Special rates have been authorized on all railroad lines entering Jacksonville and Floridians are given an opportunity to attend without an extensive outlay in railroad fare.

Not only will the fair offer the largest number of county and community agricultural exhibits ever assembled in the State, but will present what will positively be the largest and best stock and poultry shows ever held in the South. Entries in the cattle department already number more than a thousand head and a similar number of fowl have been entered for the poultry show.

Midway features will be particularly attractive and the offering in the amusement section of the fair grounds will be at once the largest and the best ever brought to Florida. The program of daily free acts is unusually attractive and will provide daily events of extraordinary interest. Several bands will provide music continuously on the grounds and in the buildings every day and night of the fair season.

Unless the fair association is able to secure several large tents for emergency use in housing livestock exhibits, it will become necessary to cut off immediately all further entries for this department. However, efforts are being made to secure the necessary tentage and it is believed will be successful.

IMPATIENTLY AWAIT GREAT NEW CIRCUS

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey
Keep Interest Here

"Circus Day," the big holiday for which young and old impatiently wait at this particular season promises to eclipse all other events of the calendar year at Orlando, Tuesday, November 18.

It would seem as though everybody in this locality were planning to attend. The very name of the great new circus—Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined—has been sufficient to arouse far more interest than has ever before been shown in the coming of any amusement enterprise. And word from the Ringling Brothers, who are the directors of the gigantic super-circus, is to the effect that those who attend the performances will witness the greatest program ever presented in America. This is likewise true of the mammoth parade, which will positively take place show day morning, the mammoth menagerie and all else connected with the biggest of all amusement institutions. The famous showmen have made a complete survey of both the great circuses and merged the finest and best of each into one. Hundreds upon hundreds of performers will appear in the gigantic main tent. There will be scores upon scores of the cleverest dumb actors. A gorgeously costumed pageant of stupendous size, will open the program. Great companies of characters, representing the best-loved stories of fable and nursery lore, will appear. There will be splendid and many groups of beautiful horses in jeweled trappings. The army of clowns exceed all past records for fun and numbers. All contribute to the biggest circus in history.

Yes, Herman, a mole may be either a beauty spot or a blemish; it depends upon whether it is located on a pretty girl or a mere man.

FOREIGN MOTHER AND HER BABES EN ROUTE TO CHRISTIAN HOSPITAL FOR TREATMENT

By FRANK E. BURKHALTER

Ever feel the thrill from the chubby arms of a little child near and dear to you as they encircle your neck in a fond embrace?

Or look into the beautiful frank eyes of that little loved one and contemplate the possibilities that lie hidden in that soul, or what you would not take in exchange for him or her who bears your name and is bone of your bone and flesh of your flesh?

Then possibly you have experienced something of that divine spirit that prompted the Man of Galilee to exclaim:

"Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones," and "It is not the will of your Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish."

And it is the belief of Southern Baptists in giving a large place to the welfare and all-round development of children in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign that they are pursuing, a course that has the sanction of Christ Jesus, the proclamation of whose Gospel everywhere is always accompanied by larger attention to the physical, mental, social and spiritual development of children.

First Right To Be Well Born.

Baptists believe the first right of every child is to be well born; that, in the second place, every child has a right to normal and healthful nourishment and physical surroundings during its tender years; and in the third place, every child has a right to an education that is adapted to its needs, physical, mental and spiritual.

But what has all this to do with the Baptist 75 Million Campaign? you ask.

In the first place, while the welfare of the human race is sought in the campaign, beginning with the cooling tot in the crib and including all needy ones down to those far advanced in the evening of life, special consideration has been given the welfare of the little folks in such special programs as doubling the enrollment in the Sunday Schools throughout the homeland; strengthening the weak churches in both the rural districts and the crowded centers of population in order that they may be able to discharge their full duties to the communities in which they are located, thus providing better atmospheres for the rearing of children; enlarging the work of the Woman's Missionary Union and its auxiliary organizations in the training of children and young people in Christian character and service; provision of better schools in the rural districts, especially in the mountainous sections; the enlargement and fuller equipment of Baptist educational institutions throughout the Southland where children as they develop into young men and women can be more adequately trained for lives of social and religious usefulness at the same time their minds and bodies are cultivated; and the provision of Good Will Centers in the large cities and mining and factory districts for reaching not only the children, but helping the parents as well provide better homes and home surroundings for the little ones whom God has entrusted to their care and rearing.

Hospitals Help the Little Ones.

That the children who come into the world with weak bodies, who contract illness or are maimed by accident may have a larger chance to become sound in body and thus be equipped for a larger development, happiness and usefulness in the world, Southern Baptists have provided hospitals in almost all of their states, while under the impetus of this campaign the states which have not made such provisions heretofore have agreed to set aside certain sums raised during this campaign for the erection of modern hospitals within their borders. Indicative of the special interest taken in the welfare of children, special children's departments, with roof gardens and other modern equipment specially designed to meet the needs of sickly, under-nourished and undeveloped little folks may come and under the care of the best children's experts which the cities afford, have a larger chance to attain the normal healthy lives which it is believed God wills that they should have, have been provided in some of these hospitals.

But probably the largest contribution Baptists have made to the welfare of children in the South is in the establishment of the string of orphanages, there being one of these in practically every state within the bounds of the Southern Baptist Convention. And the largest possible provision is being made at these institutions for the homeless tots who have been robbed by the Grim Reaper of their natural protectors. Time was in this country when many people felt that orphans were entitled to little consideration further than a shelter, and for a long time they felt that if children without fathers and mothers were placed in homes where they got food and shelter in exchange for hard manual labor they had been really served. Of course, many childless couples with high ideals were glad to get children upon whom they could bestow their affection and whom they were glad to provide with a real home, but many more instances have been witnessed of persons securing orphans solely for the economic benefit they could reap from the labors of these helpless ones and the situation was neither happy nor helpful for the children involved.

Provide Homes for the Homeless.

In breaking away from this custom of placing children and in providing institutions as nearly like genuine homes as possible, where fatherless and motherless little folks can be developed in mind, body and soul under environments just as wholesome and happy as it is possible to procure, Baptists have been pioneers. Naturally, no institution can have the same environment that a real home, presided over by a natural father and mother, and occupied with these parents only by brothers and sisters of full blood affords, yet an approximation of that ideal is had in a number of the Baptist orphanages of the South through the establishment of a cottage system where a limited number of children are placed in a cottage which they call home, under the supervision of a kindly, tactful matron and patron, who study the characteristics and qualifications of each individual, assign him or her to tasks as nearly in line with the actual bent of the child as practicable, and take as large personal interest in his or her problems and development as possible. Each of these cottages has its own garden, flower plat, wood yard and other institutions, affording special individual chores for the children, and except at school, religious services, picnics and the like the children are reckoned with in terms of the individual and the family rather than in those of the mass.

But the Baptist 75 Million Campaign does not confine its interest in children to those of the homeland. There is now in Europe a commission representing the campaign studying to see how this movement can aid most effectively in the reconstruction of that country, especially those portions of it which were devastated most largely by contending armies.

"Twenty million dollars could be expended with economy and high Christian purpose in the care of the widows and orphans of our spiritual kinsmen in Europe who have suffered through these years of war and in the erection of houses of worship, schools and the like," Dr. J. F. Love, chairman of the commission, declared on the eve of his departure, and while it is not contemplated that this sum will be available for this purpose under the present program, it is the settled purpose of the campaign to aid reconstruction in France, Belgium, Italy, Czechoslovakia, the Ukraine and other parts of Russia just as fully as possible and Dr. Love has urged the Baptists to greatly over-subscribe the $75,000,000 sought in order that there may be additional funds to apply to the European situation.

Uplifting Children of Many Lands.

And the work for the physical, mental and spiritual uplift of the children in Cuba, Panama, Mexico, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, China, Japan, Syria, Persia and Galilee, in which fields, also, missionary work is being carried on by the Southern Baptist Convention at this time.

With the exception of Japan, the education of the people has been very backward and children are always the losers where ignorance and superstition prevail. In China, for instance, in spite of the rapid progress that has come to that country within recent years, children have little or no chance for normal development except in those homes that have been reached with the enlightenment and love of the gospel. Girls are still unwelcome because of their small economic value, and there are still posted on the preserves of some of the wealthy residents whose estates adjoin the rivers such signs as, "No children shall be drowned on these premises." And the treatment for diseases prescribed by the heathen physicians in some of these countries is worse than death itself.

Shrouded in ignorance, superstition and sin as the lives of the children of these lands are in most cases, the missionaries representing the Southern Baptist Convention are convinced that schools for the enlightenment of the minds of the children, and modern hospitals where medical and surgical skill can heal their diseased and maimed bodies and put them on the road to happier and more efficient lives, are fundamental to the success of missionary endeavor and the moral and spiritual uplift of the people.

So part of the proceeds of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign will go to the establishment of kindergartens and other Christian educational institutions, hospitals and homes where orphans can be cared for in the foreign lands. Our missionaries have for a long time been handicapped by lack of money and other facilities. Frequently they have rescued children who have been thrown out to starve and after resuscitating them, given these outcasts a permanent place in their own homes, where many of them have grown into useful Christian workers.

Little Money Does Big Work.

For the sum of $25 a boy or girl can be maintained in one of the mission boarding schools for a year, while numerous native children are maintained and instructed in the homes of the missionaries at a cost of $12 a year.

Merinda Nathaniel, of Ogemum, Africa, was reared and instructed in the home of Dr. C. E. Smith, Baptist missionary, became a Christian and so ambitious was he to learn that after he had completed the schools in Africa he came to America and entered Virginia University at Richmond, where he took off all honors, at the same time working for all his expense money. He returned to Africa and is vice-president of the boys' academy in his home city.

A day school in China, one of the greatest evangelizing forces known to the mission board, and which is proving the physical, moral, mental and spiritual salvation of the girls whom it reaches can be maintained for about $70.

If so large a work has been done already, why the need of increasing it through the Baptist 75 Million Campaign? some may ask.

The answer is that the work that has been done in the homeland and on the foreign fields is a very, very small part of what needs to be done. The cry for help is coming up from hundreds of millions of helpless children in all parts of the world who need and crave the privileges and blessings of a great Christian civilization such as you covet for the children of your own. It is to help answer this call that the campaign was launched. Other interests than those of children will be fostered at the same time.

Of the $20,000,000 apportioned to foreign missions a considerable sum will go to sending more missionaries to foreign fields to proclaim the gospel to adults as well as to children; $12,000,000 will go to home missions for its work of evangelism, enlistment, church building, mountain schools and the like in its vast field, along with special work among the foreigners, Indians and Negroes; $11,000,000 will go to state missions in an effort to win to Christ the 13,000,000 unsaved white people within the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention; $20,000,000 will be applied to Christian education in enlarging and endowing the Baptist educational institutions of the South; $4,800,000 will go to the hospitals; $4,700,000 to the orphanages; and $2,500,000 for the relief of the aged ministers of the Baptist church who have worn themselves out in the service of God on salaries that have permitted them to save nothing for old age.

But investment in the salvation of the children will bear larger and larger returns throughout the years because millions of them will live long enough to bless others and to raise up still other children who will pass on these blessings to others yet unborn.

Bottles, lamp chimneys and other glass in common use will be the staple lines to be manufactured out of Florida sand, and the promoters anticipate securing orders for all the glass that can be turned out. It is said that the first glass ever made in Florida, and made from Florida sand, was "blown" at the plant of the Gulf Iron Works, plant superintendent of the company. The sand used was silted from the big bed of that material which the company owns between Tampa and Tarpon Springs.

The Panama City Pilot says: "As tea was a prominent factor in the downfall of the British Empire in America, so sugar may fortell the downfall of the democratic administration in this country. While the administration was obsessed with the League of Nations controversy, it appears that England and Japan quietly took over the Cuban and Hawaiian sugar supply, cutting this country out of its customary share of the more than four million tons produced annually in the islands named. And what makes it the more exasperating is that the great American Sugar Trust is refining the most of this foreign bought sugar—for these foreign nations. Truly, the average common people are an easy mark."

Miami Metropolis: "During the month of October there were 226 arrests by the Miami police department, with fines and forfeitures amounting to $1,020. The cost of feeding prisoners amounted to $76.45."

The premiums on live stock alone at the Florida State Fair in Jacksonville, will total $16,000, while the total cash prize list for this year's fair will be $30,000, exclusive of the special prizes in the poultry show.

The Miami Metropolis tells us that at a recent revival held in the English Wesleyan Methodist church, (colored), of that city, there were one hundred and fifty converts to the Christian religion.

P. W. Lewis has returned to St. Petersburg after an absence of 25 years to visit his two sons. Mr. Lewis claims to have built the first home in St. Petersburg in the year 1887, coming to Florida to engage in the lumber business. Mr. Lewis was, of course, amazed at the growth of the Sunshine City, and found very few of the old landmarks left.

The State Convention of the Women's Clubs will convene in St. Petersburg on Tuesday, November 18, and will last until the 21st. The convention will be largely attended from all parts of the State. Following the General U. D. C. Convention, which holds its session in Tampa just previous to the convention, and the two cities being so close together, both organizations should have a record breaking convention, as a great many of the U. D. C. women are club women also.

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

ROLLING your own cigarettes with Prince Albert is just about as joyous a sideline as you ever carried around in your grip! For, take it at any angle, you never got such quality, flavor, fragrance and coolness in a makin's cigarette in your life as every "P. A. home-made" will present you!

Prince Albert puts new smokenotions under your bonnet! It's so delightful rolled into a cigarette—and, so easy to roll! And, you just take to it like you been doing it since away back! You see, P. A. is crimp cut and a cinch to handle! It stays put—and you don't lose a lot when you start to hug the paper around the tobacco!

You'll like Prince Albert in a jimmy pipe as much as you do in a home-rolled cigarette, too! Bite and parch are cut out by our exclusive patented process. You know P. A. is the tobacco that has led three men to smoke pipes where one was smoked before. Yes sir, Prince Albert blazed the way. And, me-o-my, what a wad of smokesport will ripple your way every time you fill up!

AMERICAN MASONS MAY RESTORE SOLOMON'S TEMPLE

By F. C. Higgins, 32 Deg. A.A.S.S.E. In The New York Herald

Freemasonry's requirement of all available funds and energies in the prosecution of post-war benevolent enterprises is a certain guaranty that it will be many a long day before the pet enterprises of certain Masonic enthusiasts receive sanction and support, but the world's reordering under present circumstances is a sure pledge that many hitherto Utopian dreams have entered the charmed realms of possibility and probability.

Masonry has its holy places as well as the great religions of humanity—the spots associated with its early struggles and putative founders.

Due to the importance of the Solomon legend the antiquities and archaeology of Freemasonry are intimately connected with those of Judaism, so that, in fact, any discovery of importance in the one domain of research has a wide and far reaching interest in the other.

There have been many attempts made in this country and in England to interest Masons in the project of a permanent memorial of the fraternity in the shape of an ornate Masonic temple on or near the site of King Solomon's famous edifice on Mount Moriah.

An extension of this idea has been that of actually rebuilding the ancient edifice as closely upon the original plan as could be arrived at and presenting it to the remnants of the Jewish people who might gather around such an important undertaking.

There have been actually several associations formed in the United States with the latter end in view, but hitherto the difficulties have been practically insuperable.

The legend of Solomon and his temple is almost as sacred to the Moslem as to the Jew and the possession of its ancient emplacement has been not merely a political measure with the Turkish powers but a religious duty.

Always the Holy City Then, although the Turk has been long in possession, there have been not only the Jewish faithful on guard, as near to the sacred precincts as possible, but the Greek and Latin Christian factions, whose disgraceful riots of contention have marred the celebration of almost every holy day which has brought them together at the same holy places.

While it is presumed that the exclusion of Mohammedan rule and the introduction in some manner of a protected preponderance of Jewish settlers in the newly liberated "land of the Book" will bring great changes in the administration of the sacred areas, yet Jerusalem will never cease to be the historically "Holy City" of at least three powerful and antagonistic sects. Strictly speaking, it is in conformity with Christian dogma that the Temple shall not be rebuilt, nor its worship resumed, because what Christianity terms the "Jewish dispensation" is supposed to have been abrogated. Judaism, admitting no such argument, builds its final hope upon such an event and the hosts of "Zion" are everywhere assembling to make it possible. The contentions of the Christian churches between themselves gather more particularly around the "Holy Sepulchre" and the localities identified with the various Gospel narratives.

These questions will all have to be resolved in some manner sooner or later, and when they are it is more than likely that the Moslem element, as the latest arrival on the scene, will be the first forced to give way.

There is little doubt that the site of Jerusalem's ancient shrine was a spot deemed sacred by races long antedating the Hebrew population. It was already called "Jebus-Salem" upon the first arrival of the Jews, who conquered the ancient Canaanitish stronghold, and these words meant "Mount of the Saviour" and the "rock" was sacred to Tamuz, the Syrian form of the Indian Bacchus, called by the Greeks Dionysius, worshipped under the form of wheat and grapes, long before Jewish times. The traditional name of the "threshing floor" applied to the top surface of the rock is an allusion to this Dionysiac worship.

Which Means "Peace"

The Hebrews accepted the word "Salmannu," or "Salmour," as an equivalent to their "Shalem" meaning "peace," which also applies to the very name of Solomon, "Salmann-Star," or "Saviour King," under which the site achieved its greatest fame. Furthermore, before the arrival of the Jews in Palestine the latter was one of the territories of a stupendous "Khita," or Hittite, civilization, which extended across Asia Minor from Greece to Persia, which had existed for centuries and had become old, decrepit and disappearing when Israel was first assuming form as a concrete people.

It is also fairly conjecturable that Mount "Moriah" is the old Hindu "Mount Meru" or at least one of the localities which received this name just as there are some half dozen Mounts Amarat known to tradition.

Now for the first time in history the entire precincts of this sacred spot will be available for exploration on a scale which will permit of an accurate archaeological reconstruction of its history.

The mount proper, upon which the successive temples have been located, is a vast composite of, first, the original rocky foundation, much quarried, tunneled and excavated in various directions, then great masses of prehistoric rubbish, which have been employed to fill in depressions and hollows and finally a variety of courses of masonry of many ages which have been built up the sides for the purpose of consolidating the whole. The top most platform, now called the "Haramees-Sherif," is the level upon which all of the temples have been actually erected, and is a distinctly Masonic figure, consisting, as it does, of two conjoined triangles, the Pythagorean triangle of 3-4-5 proportions, upon which the forty-seventh problem of Euclid is based and that, the respective angles of which are 47, 98 and 47 degrees, which supplies the base of a square and radius of a circle equal in area to that square. It may be remarked that the remains of prehistoric temple architecture all over the world, whether in India, China, Palestine, Egypt, Mexico or Peru, exhibit evidences of the employment of this forty-seventh problem and its circle squaring derivatives as the secret marks of the universal guild of sacred architects who built them.

The Biblical History

Biblical records of the building of the first edifice, that of King Solomon, through the combined efforts of the wise king, his fellow craftsmen, Hiram, King of Tyre, and the celebrated Tyrian Architect, Operative Grand Master of the "Sons of Light," are generally accepted to be enormously exaggerated. Not only do the accounts in the Books of Kings and Chronicles differ in important details but the size of the completed edifice, as compared with the description of its materials and erection, as well as of the number of laborers employed, is as if a project to build a large city had only eventuated in a single moderate sized house. Oriental poetic license breathed from every page of the sacred narrative. It is interesting to note that fine examples of authentic arches, with keystones in place, have been discovered by explorers in the subterranean parts of the temple. We shall not, however, spend our time in going over details which can readily be found in suitable works of reference, because there are one or two less often discussed features of this historic edifice which are worthy of discussion.

The curious detail dwelt upon in the Scriptural narrative of the temple, that it was constructed "without sound of axe, hammer or any iron tool, but that when finally assembled the several parts fitted together more like the handiwork of the Great Architect of the Universe," was a self-evident allusion to the then probably secret process, so far as the common people were concerned, of employing geometrical plans just as we do today, perfectly measured on a definite scale, upon which the cedars were cut and fashioned in the forests of Lebanon. The brass ornaments would be cast in the clay grounds between Succoth and Zeredatha and the stones, quarried in the immediate vicinity, would be worked up from drawings and brought "on the job" ready to mortise directly into their places, to the utter astonishment of a simple people, accustomed to build what and how they could from such materials as lay at hand by mere rule of thumb.

The methods employed by these wonderful builders of almost prehistoric times in cutting, moving and erecting huge monolithic stones without the aid of our modern devices have been the wonder of modern engineers. They must also have been kept more or less secret from the people at the time of their employment, for in place of technical details of the various operations which will stand the tests of reason and experiment the ancient chroniclers have left us legends of the most fantastic description, no one of which is more interesting than that of King Solomon's wonderful "trained worm," which was made to account, in Hebrew legends, for the splendors of his architecture.

Rules on Metals

The prohibition of metals and prohibition of iron instruments to be directly employed upon the Hebrew sacred edifices we find to commence far anterior to the time of Solomon. The creative and destructive powers of Jehovah were held to be operative through the seven planets, which from being gods among the Chaldeans had been made archangels by the Jews, as they remained in Christian days up to the time of Kepler's famous thesis, Iron was the distinctive metal of Mars who was the Hebrew death angel, Samael, and could not be associated (Continued on Page 8)

WITHOUT MAGAZINES

What would life be without magazines? The public is soon to be able to answer this question from experience. The publishers of nearly 200 magazines have announced that the November issues will be late. In fact some of them may not appear for weeks beyond their usual time of blossoming out upon the news stands.

And what will the country do then?
Can brides be married without benefit of editors? Can the newspapers take up the extra load of fashion displays and lectures on how to drape the wedding veil and what to buy for the first kitchen?

How can the babies be fed, or the church bazaar be given? How can we know the latest wrinkles in science and agriculture? And what will the editorial writers do when there is no one to put the big topics of the day into easily digestible form?

And the movie fans—how can they ever wait a whole month longer to know whether Vivian is married to Launcelot Stubbs and whether Jane Jones got her divorce?

But may it not be possible that a public educated to reading, as a substitute for thought, may turn to the good old bookshelf for a few weeks in search of something to take the place of its accustomed drug?

And may not the reader find astonishment as well as delight therein?
Think of a whole generation discovering at once that Dickens and Victor Hugo are as thrilling as Robert Chambers and Harold Bell Wright! And that the Bible is full of stories whose rippling human interest needs no boxed editorial blurbs. And that no novel could possibly be so entrancing as the love-letters of the Brownings, that the letters of Matthew Arnold and of Beethoven are full of deep stirrings of the heart.

And there are the essays of Huxley
—those clear pools of logical beauty—and the essays of John Fiske, which are bound to make the reader bring out his own mind for a little exercise.

It is autumn now, and there is a nip in the air that gives zest to the soul as well as to the body. Why not try a little good old-fashioned "solid reading" along with the nuts and apples? The cheery faces of the magazines will be none the less welcome in their turn.—Pensacola News.

PROHIBITION THE RESULT OF 50-YEAR CAMPAIGN AND ABSENCE OF SOLDIERS.

In reiteration of the charge of the "wet" that national prohibition was "put over" on the men in the service while they were overseas, the headquarters of the Georgia campaign for the Anti-Saloon League of America issued the following statement recently:

"The members of the congress which submitted the national prohibition amendment to the states for ratification were elected largely on this very measure long before a state of war existed between the United States and Germany. The amendment was submitted by congress Dec. 18, 1917, when only a few scattering regular units had been sent overseas.

"Before the United States entered the war twenty-five states had gone dry and were pledged to national prohibition, and legislators in enough others to carry the amendment through had been elected to office.

"There were fifty per cent more people living in dry territory than in licensed territory before a state of war existed between the United States and Germany. Fifty-five million people stood arrayed against 35,000,000 in the direct issue of prohibition before the war.

"The Eighteenth Amendment is the culmination of organized effort for over half a century. The act of congress in submitting the amendment, and its ratification by forty-five of the forty-eight states is the result of years of organized effort and the growth of public sentiment against the liquor traffic."

The law enforcement campaign in Georgia is rapidly being organized.

THE NEGRO QUESTION

Following is the text of a timely, interesting, and well considered editorial from The Stars and Stripes, which bears directly on a vital issue now before The American Legion—that of the status of the negro veteran.

States Rights in the Legion

Because the American Legion has grown more rapidly than its machinery has grown, it has become necessary for some of the state organizations to take definite action on vital questions without waiting for the national convention or consulting the temporary executive committee. This was notably true in the Southern states, where the negro question injected itself into Legion organizations almost from the first.

As a result at least two states have arbitrarily decided not to admit the black ex-soldier to Legion membership.
They had no right to do this under the Legion charter, but they had a very good cause for it nevertheless, and any one who knows the South knows that the South is going to handle the race question for itself in its own way.

If the Legion at Minneapolis or any where else, should presume to dictate to its southern membership how its southern problems are to be handled, it will accomplish nothing except possibly alienate the South from its present enthusiastic support of the Legion.
Any step toward intolerance by those in one section who have not faced the problem of another section, can lend no aid to the present effort of moulding a great national body. And the recent experiences of Washington, Chicago and other cities indicates that meddling with racial problems at this time by any but the most fearless, honest and experienced hands would be not only imprudent but unpatriotic to a degree.

Such enemies of the nation as have been caught red-handed delivering propaganda to the colored population of the South must find no comfort through any dissensions in a body so utterly American as the Legion. The Southern states will ask nothing of the national convention but the right they have exercised for many years of dealing with their own problems.

They should be conceded that right without question.

Word was received last Sunday telling of the death of M. Katz of Kissimmee, at a hospital in Baltimore. Members of the family at Kissimmee had been summoned to his bedside. Mr. Katz was one of the oldest merchants in Osceola county, and was one of the most progressive and successful business men in this section.

Mr. T. L. Comer of Marion, Ind., joined his family here Wednesday and will spend the winter in our midst. Mr. and Mrs. Comer were here last winter and became interested in St. Cloud properties. They have many friends here who are pleased to learn that they have returned to the city.

Mrs. R. H. Hatcher desires to announce that she has taken over the management of the Lake View Hotel, which has undergone renovation and is now open to take care of the tourists and general public. Meals will be served at regular hours. 8-11

By a vote of the congregation of the Baptist church last Sunday the following schedule of services has been adopted: Sunday school at 10 a. m.; preaching at 11 a. m.; B. Y. P. U. at 6 p. m.; preaching at 7 p. m. To all those meetings the public is cordially invited. Dr. M. P. Foster will preach both morning and evening.

Press correspondents and secretaries of the local organizations who report the meetings of the respective orders, are asked to send their copy to the Tribune as early after each meeting as possible. At this season of the year there are a great many meetings, and those who wait until Wednesday or Thursday to report meetings that occur on Friday or Saturday of the week before, may find their reports crowded out until a week later. This is not desired by either the paper or the members, as the Tribune desires to give full reports of all happenings, but there is a limit to the amount of type that can be set on the last day of the press week.

Several citizens have been heard to make complimentary remarks on the work that has been accomplished by Street Commissioner Washburn in the past few weeks, for the manner in which Massachusetts avenue, New York avenue and Pennsylvania avenue have been cleaned, graded and rolled all the way to the lake, thus repairing all the damage done during the rainy summer when it was impossible to work the roads that had been cut into ruts by travel in wet weather. Mr. Washburn recently put up several tons of hay from the clean up work undertaken by his men, which saved a considerable sum to the city, and the streets have been placed in an excellent condition throughout the city.

Dr. C. I. Wheatley returned to St. Cloud on Monday evening after an absence of more than two years, during which time he was in the service of the United States army, returning only this summer from Europe, where he was in overseas service for one year and one month. Dr. Wheatley left St. Cloud to attend to the duties of a surgeon in the 1st Central Postal Directory, which he did for a year and was sent overseas. He was discharged from the army on Oct. 24, this year, making more than two years' service in the United States army since he left this city.

Fred Tibbets and family of Seattle, Wash., are touring Florida for the first time, having made the trip to Apopka, the home of Mr. Tibbets' father, by automobile, a trip of 5,057 miles from Seattle, having come from the northwest to Florida over what is known as the southern route. They will visit all over this section while in the state. They are delighted with the city.

Comrade Wentworth, whose home is at the canal and lake front west of St. Cloud, has moved his home across the boulevard to the lake front, overhauled the place and painted all the buildings, in order to do his bit in the clean up and paint up campaign that has been going on here for some time. Mr. Wentworth has now one of the best located and most comfortable homes in this section.

Mr. E. S. Walker, wife and mother, of Lowell, Ind., arrived in St. Cloud on Monday of this week and were guests at the Lakeview hotel. Mr. Walker expects to be joined by a number of other Indiana people who are on their way to St. Cloud. Among those whom Mr. Walker expects to arrive at an early date is A. P. Thompson, who was a winter visitor here two years ago.

J. H. Kearley and sister, Miss Nora Kearley of Mobile, Ala., arrived in St. Cloud early Tuesday morning for a visit with their uncle, Dr. J. D. Chunn. Mr. Kearley has seen service in Uncle Sam's navy, while Miss Nora was a graduate of a high school last year. Dr. Chunn was taken by surprise as the two young relatives arrived at Kissimmee on the early morning train Tuesday and did not wait for the Sugar Belt to come over but took a car for St. Cloud, arriving here before the morning blast of "Big Jim" had told the citizens it was time to wake up. They will remain in the city for some time.

Tuesday Leon D. Lamb reminded the editor that if he desired to get a turkey for Thanksgiving he had better get a county hunting license before November 20th, and then proceeded to inform us that he would take our affidavit and our dollar and get the license for us. Leon has a bunch of applications on hand, and will swear you to the same and get Judge Murphy to complete the deal in time to make your trip to the woods next Thursday legal. A resident county license costs $1. A non-resident county license costs $15. It pays to live in St. Cloud all the year.

There is soon to be brought before a St. Cloud audience a benefit entertainment for a most worthy object—the equipment of a play ground for our schools. The announcement of the object alone should fill everyone with enthusiasm. Helpful methods of recreation and physical development means much to well poised girl or boy, and lays a beautiful foundation for a perfect education.

Mrs. Edward Stillman Kelley, the wife of one of our foremost American composers, will give an evening of musical instruction and pleasure early in December at the G. A. R. hall. Mrs. Kelley was here some six years ago, in a most delightful recital and made an impression upon her hearers that will go far toward a large attendance, and together with the deservedly popular benefit should fill the hall and bring a goodly sum.

The date, and further announcements, will appear in next week's Tribune.

That's Where!

Irwin O. Biffle, one of the air mail pilots who fly between Chicago and Cleveland, received an unexpected lesson in geography one day. He was flying westward when a storm came up. Fog enveloped him, and he was driven by diverse air currents many miles out of his course. Then his engine went wrong, and he was forced to descend.

He wasn't quite certain what state he was in. As he neared the ground, however, the skies grew lighter, and he saw a crowd of villagers running toward him through a field.

They surrounded him as he reached land.

"Where am I?" asked Biffle.

"You're in Jerry Hendrick's cow pasture," said one of them.—Cartoons Magazine.

MILK IS BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD FOR CHILDREN

AND ADVANCED AGE

Good food is the best medicine in the world for growing children and milk is nature's "finest food."

In milk nature combines all the elements that build up and sustain strong, healthy bodies, from its nourishment is quickly assimilated by the body to restore worn tissue and to make new muscle, bone and energy, because milk is a balanced food. It is easily digested, does not overtax the stomach, and it supplies nourishment in proper balanced proportion. A quart of milk a day for each child or person will do away with the need of expensive drugs and you will be 100 per cent better for it.

Serve milk as a beverage at every meal. Serve more milk in puddings, creamed vegetables and on cereals. Give it to the kiddie as an in-between-meal drink.

No child can get too much milk, and be sure you get milk from the Model Dairy, rich, pure, wholesome milk, from the dairy whose modern equipment and advanced methods of sanitation have made it famous.

We make two deliveries, morning and evening, throughout the city, or at the drug stores.

What About the Slip Horns?

A report of excavations made among the Indian mounds along the Crawfish river in Wisconsin, tells of a remarkable degree of civilization which prevailed among the aborigines in this region. "In the center of some of the higher mounds," says the report, "were found ceremonial poles imbedded in stone and cement made of gravel and clay. In a few of these mounds we have found stone hatchets, arrow heads and cellos (!)" In one of the mounds, the writer goes on to say, "we found an ear ornament that was famous among the Eskimos." We have a suspicion that the latter was not an ornament at all, but a mandolin pick.—Cartoons Magazine.

with a Temple representative of life eternal. Iron was also the metal of implements of warfare, and so we find no mention of its employment for any purposes connected with divine service, although of copper and brass, the metals of Venus, or "Love," and Venus and Jove (Jn) combined there is a plenty. The Greek names are given because best understood. They are names given by the Greeks to mysticisms taken directly from the Hebrews.

Moses, in Exodus xx., 25, says:—"Thou shalt not build it (the tabernacle) of hewn stone, for if thou lift up thy tool upon it thou hast polluted it." In Deuteronomy xxvii., 5, we find "Thou shalt build an altar unto Jehovah, thy God, an altar of stones; thou shalt not lift up any iron tool upon them," and Joshua (viii., 17) is said to have raised up an altar of whole stones "over which no man hath lift up any iron." The Hebrew Mishchana commands, "Iron is used to shorten life, the altar to prolong it." Josephus, Procopius and many other old time writers concur and are at pains to explain the evil of bringing iron into contact with the stones of sacred edifices. Naturally enough when the edifice of exquisitely polished and oftentimes finely carved blocks of intensely hard stone took the place of the cairns and dolmens of primitive humanity it was necessary to in some way conceal the process of architectural elaboration from those who for generations had been steeped in superstitious abhorrence of iron wrought stone. Hence the legends invented to account for that which could be produced in no other way. Mr. S. Baring Gould, a learned English antiquarian, has translated one of the most interesting of all to Freemasons.

It seems that when King Solomon was about to build the temple and ran against the ancient law forbidding the use of iron in its construction, he called together the wise men of Israel and submitted the problem to them. They, in turn, called his attention to the fact that the stones set in the high priest's breastplate had been cut and polished by something harder than themselves. This, so far as they were able to ascertain, was a "schamir," which would cut things that even iron would not bite.

Then most excellent King Solomon was a great wizard himself, summoned the spirits to inform him where such a substance could be secured.

They informed him that the schamir was a grain of barley, but so powerful that the hardest flint could not resist him. They then directed him to Asmodeus, King of the Devils, for further instruction.

When Solomon inquired where Asmodeus was to be found they answered that on a huge and distant mountain he had dug a cistern out of which he daily drank. Solomon then sent his servant, Beniah, with a chain on which was inscribed the "Shem Hamphorasch" or wonder working name of God, which is said to have been "Jahdunhi" and as any one can see an alteration of the letters "Adul Jhvh," which means the "Lord Jehovah." Beniah, who also carried a fleece of wool (Aries) and a skin of wine (Vino), having arrived at the cistern of Asmodeus, undermined it and let the water run out by the little hole, which he then proceeded to plug up with his wool, afterward emptying into the cistern the contents of his wine-skin.

Chaining the Evil One

His Satanic Majesty came, as usual, to the cistern and smelled the good wine, but suspecting a trick of some kind, refrained from drinking until, overcome with thirst and less alarmed, he drank and speedily became intoxicated. That was Beniah's time to jump out, chain him up and drag him away. Asmodeus would have evidently required a platoon of policemen to get him to a station house. He plunged, kicked and struggled, overturning houses and uprooting trees on his way to Jerusalem.

Passing a hut inhabited by a poor widow, the latter begged him not to injure her poor habitation, whereupon the devil turned aside and in so doing broke his leg.

"That served me right," quoth Satan, quoting from Proverbs xxv., 15, "A soft tongue breaketh the bone," and he has limped ever since.

Finally hauled into the presence of King Solomon, the now fairly sober Prince of Evil was constrained to better behavior.

He informed Solomon that the "schamir" was owned by the Prince of the Sea, who only trusted the famous worm to the moor-hen whom he had sworn to fidelity.

It was the habit of this moor-hen to carry the schamir to the tops of mountains and there employ it to split open rocks, into which she injected seeds, which grew and covered the latter.

Wherefore this bird was called "nag-gartura," the mountain carver.

If King Solomon had urgent need of this worm, said the devil, he would have to find the moor-hen's nest and cover it with a plate of glass so that the mother bird could not get at her young without breaking the glass. She would then go and get the schamir for this purpose and the rest was up to the zealous hunter.

Therefore the King of Israel sent forth Beniah Ben Jehoida, armed with a plate of finest Phoenician glass to lay siege to the moor-hen and her precious deposit.

It is curious how easily the devil, the Prince of the Sea, and the clever moor-hen were outwitted by an astute Hebrew gentleman with some glass.

Beniah carried out the directions, scared away the moor-hen by his cries and captured the precious worm, which she dropped in her flight, carrying it at once to his delighted sovereign.

The voracious chronicler states that the moor-hen was so distressed over her broken oath that she committed suicide.

King Solomon then put the intelligent and wonder working worm in the temple quarries and produced the results we read of in Holy Scriptures.

Another Monument

Another Masonic monument which is attracting wide attention among enthusiastic Masons is the famous old monument, which still exists in a ruined condition, about five miles east of the famed city of Tyre and called the "Kabr Halran," or "Tomb of Hiram." It is supposed to be the last resting place of the famous king who assisted King Solomon in his laudable enterprise, and a committee of distinguished

GET READY FOR "FLU"

Keep Your Liver Active, Your System Purified and Free From Colds by Taking Calotabs, the Nauseless Calomel Tablets, that are Delightful, Safe and Sure.

Physicians and Druggists are advising their friends to keep their systems purified and their organs in perfect working order as a protection against the return of influenza. They know that a clogged up system and a lazy liver favor colds, influenza and serious complications.

To cut short a cold overnight and to prevent serious complications take one Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, no griping, no sickening after effects. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Every druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not perfectly delighted with Calotabs. (Adv.)

Freemasons belonging to a wealthy Consistory of Scottish Rite Masons are said to be collecting funds for its complete restoration.

The famous Kentucky Mason, Robert Morris, visited this tomb about fifty years ago and described it as "a remarkable structure, consisting of fifteen stones only, arranged in five layers of the ordinary hard cretaceous limestone. It is smooth as glass and so hard as to blunt an ordinary chisel."

This monument rests upon a made foundation of rubble mortar, its five layers above ground being as follows: A first layer of four stones, four feet high; a second tier of five stones, two feet ten inches high; third tier, four stones, two feet eleven inches high; fourth tier, a single huge stone block, in the center of which is hewn a sarcophagus big enough for the reception of a human body. The fifth tier is another massive single stone forming a lid to the one below.

This lid is made with a tenon on the under side which fits into the cavity of the coffin below. Cement was probably used in fastening it.

The body was evidently reached by the vandals who rifled it long ago by going to the top of this lid and smashing off enough of the corner to insert a lever. Brother Robert Morris further embellished this notable ruin, which is ten by fifteen feet in dimensions, by carving a Masonic square and compasses on its base. He also dedicated the fifteen stones of which it is composed to fifteen then leading American and British Masons.

The view from the top of Hiram's Tomb is said to be one of the most beautiful in Syria.

There is a fine view of Tyre and one may follow the plain coast of Phoenicia with the naked eye almost to Sidon.

The tomb is overgrown with hyssop and infested with reptiles, such as lizards and an occasional adder.

It was probably rifled by the cohorts of the great Sennacherib when "the Assyrian came down like a wolf on the fold," in B. C. 715, or three hundred years after the episode in which King Hiram so creditably figured.

What is left of this remarkable old monument to the pillar of Masonic strength and probably last resting place of the world's first "Senior Warden" after the stirring events which have just torn the soil of this ancient land can only be conjectured. Suffice it to say that those who have its restoration and Masonic honoring in view could not have chosen a more worthy or popular object.

HAPPY JACK SQUIRREL MOVES

By Thornton Burgess.

Happy Jack Squirrel was moving. He was moving. It wasn't that he wanted to move. He was moving. Moving is bad enough at any season, but to have to do it right in the very middle of the harvest season is enough to drive almost any right-minded thrifty squirrel almost crazy, and Happy Jack was nothing if not thrifty. But he had to move. He was moving. He explained to Peter Rabbit, if he didn't he never would know another minute of peace.

"You know, Peter," said Happy Jack "I believe in thrift."

Peter wriggled his wobbly little nose a bit scornfully. "If I don't know it, it isn't because I haven't had it everlastingly preached to me," said he.

Happy Jack took no note of Peter's scorn. "Yes, sir, I believe in thrift," he continued. "The truly thrifty person is the one who will get on fastest and farthest in life. Think it over, Peter. So it was because I am truly thrifty (at least I think I am) that I had to drop everything and move right now in the middle of my busy season. I couldn't afford to risk losing what I've already got just for the sake of adding a little to it. Do you think I could, Peter?"

Peter Rabbit scratched one long ear with a long hindfoot, then the other long ear with the other hindfoot, and looked puzzled. "I don't know what you're talking about, but if you say it's so I guess so it is," said he.

"Of course it is," retorted Happy Jack. "You know I've been living in the attic of that house over there." He pointed to a house Peter could just see through the trees.

Peter looked at the house then looked at Happy Jack. "You may be able to stuff a lot down me, but you can't make me swallow that house," said he.

"Why, men live in that house," said he.

"Of course they do," replied Happy Jack with a chuckle. "But I've been living there, too. Do you see that limb of a tree just touching the roof of that house?"

Peter nodded. "Well, one day," continued Happy Jack, "I ran out on that limb and on the roof. Then I discovered a place where I could gnaw hole and I did it."

"What for?" demanded Peter.

"To find out what was inside," replied Jack. "When I got it big enough to crawl through I got into the attic and it was the most wonderful place. There was the greatest lot of stuff up there you ever saw, piles of old papers, old clothes, old furniture, boxes—goodness, I couldn't begin to tell you of all the stuff in that attic. It didn't take me long to find out that nobody ever came up there excepting once in a great while to put some more stuff there."

"So I made a nest in a box, a nest of paper which I tore up and old rags and decided to live there. It was the most comfortable home I've ever had, and I was looking forward to spending the winter there. It was a wonderful place to live. It certainly was," Happy Jack said this very wistfully.

"Then why don't you stay there?" demanded Peter.

"Because I've just discovered it was not safe," declared Happy Jack. "No, sir, it isn't safe, and safety is the first law of life, as you very well know."

Again Peter nodded, and Happy Jack continued: "One night I was awakened by some one in the attic. It was a boy and he was looking for something with a lighted match. It burned close to his fingers and then he dropped it. It fell on a piece of old paper and it blazed right up. That boy was quick. I'll say that much for him. He stamped that fire out quicker than a wink. Then he went off down stairs."

"The rest of that night I didn't sleep much. I kept thinking supposing that match had dropped in one of the big piles of paper and he hadn't been able to stamp it out. The Red Terror would have just raced through that stuff and that whole house would have been afire in no time. So I decided to move. I couldn't afford to lose my winter supply of nuts stored there, to say nothing of running the risk of being burned to death because of somebody's carelessness. Besides, I made up my mind that I had been living with thrifless people. No one truly thrifty would ever have allowed such a mass of stuff to collect. They would have sold it for Thrift Stamps and so got some good from it. You know, Peter, there isn't anything that can't be made use of in some way."

"I can't stand thriflessness," said Peter. "It isn't itself bad enough, but thrifless people are also apt to be careless. So I'm moving to a hollow tree. Now I feel rested and must get to work again and save the rest of my winter supplies before the Red Terror burns up that house. I feel it in my bones that that is going to happen some day. Good-by, Peter."

Happy Jack scampered away in the direction of the house where he had been living and where the thrifless, careless people lived. Then Peter turned towards the dear old briar patch. "It certainly is funny," said he to himself as he hopped along, "how thrifless some people are and don't know it, and what a lot of different kinds of thriflessness there are."

Camel CIGARETTES

If you want to know what rare and unusual enjoyment Camels provide smoke them in comparison with any cigarette in the world at any price!

CAMELS are a cigarette revelation any way you consider them! Take quality, or refreshing flavor and fragrance; or, that wonderful mellow-mild-smoothness you never before got in a cigarette smoke! Yet Camels are so full-bodied and so full-of-satisfaction you marvel that so much delight could be put into a cigarette!

Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos makes them so irresistibly appetizing! And, the blend explains why it is possible for you to smoke Camels liberally without tiring your taste! You will prefer Camels to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

You'll realize pretty quick, too, that among the many reasons you smoke Camels is their freedom from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor!

Once you know Camels you won't take much stock in premiums, coupons or gifts! You'll prefer Camel quality!

INTERESTING HAPPENINGS AT COUNTY CAPITAL BY REGULAR CORRESPONDENT

CELESTE J. FRIPP.

The Baptist church observed Americanization day last Sunday. Rev. Jenner addressed his remarks especially to the boys of the American Legion, admonishing them to measure up in all the duties of life as they had been found capable of doing when they were accepted in the duties of warfare. Marion Carson Farmer, one of the Legion, read its preamble and constitution. The music was in keeping with the entire patriotic service.

The Presbyterian congregation enjoys a rare treat each Sunday in the sermons preached by Rev. William H. Dresch, A. M., professor of philosophy and education at Rollins College.

The Methodist women are holding cottage prayer meetings every afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock. On Wednesday the meeting was held at Mrs. J. McChatter's home, today at Mrs. Van Dugor's home. On the 19th a series of meetings will begin at the church under the preaching services of Rev. Dunaway and the soloist, Mr. Boyd, two evangelists from Georgia.

The Christian church of Florida is holding its annual convention in Tampa this week. On the program appear the names of Rev. W. H. Coleman and Mrs. Coleman of Kissimmee. Also Rev. A. M. Chisholm, formerly pastor here.

The Mothers' Club is busy preparing a Thanksgiving box to send to the orphanage at Jacksonville. Mrs. S. L. Lupper gladly receives any clothing donated for this purpose. The club meets every Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. S. L. Lupper, over or mending garments for this Florida's greatest charity.

Kissimmee's Concert Band spent a restful day in Bartow. At 9:30 the band left Kissimmee by auto. The band had a long day, playing for afternoon and evening programs, returning about 2:30 Wednesday morning. However, Kissimmee is very proud of this organization and is glad to share it with neighboring counties.

Of our annual tourists, who have spent many winters here, who we expect to see this week are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meech of Pennsylvania, and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Paver of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Tucker are expected to arrive within the week to this their winter home. They have been in Michigan during the summer.

Mrs. Minnie Moore-Wilson arrived home Tuesday after a long sojourn in New York City.

Many friends gladly welcomed Mrs. Mary Prentiss in her visit over the Sunday in Kissimmee.

Mrs. C. A. Carson and daughters, Misses Anne and Inez entertained last Saturday evening in honor of Miss Marion Porter, whose marriage to Mr. Marion Carson Farmer is announced to take place in December.

Miss Edith M. Thomas, supervisor of State Economics Department, visited Kissimmee last Friday and took lunch at the school lunch room.

Miss Hattie Sherman of the State Anti-Tuberculosis Association was in town over Sunday, the guest of Miss Abina Smith. Miss Sherman's visit was in the interest of the Red Cross Christmas seals.

Interest continues in the school lunch room. Average daily attendance remains at 150. One little girl remarked: "The dinners are so good, never two alike, and different ladies too, to wait on you everyday." One big fine boy in taking back his plate after having been served, said to Mrs. Steed, "Well, that was a big enough dinner for any boy."

†Last Monday afternoon for an hour and a half all business in Kissimmee was suspended. Many hearts, warm and tender, beat in sympathy. Many heads bowed in silent reverie, as at that hour the last service was being held for one of Kissimmee's most loved citizens. Mr. M. Katz had passed beyond the portals on Saturday. On Monday the body was placed in the Katz family vault in Baltimore. The sons, Edgar and Howard, are expected to return to Kissimmee today. The widow is still in the East, very depleted in health and strength.

Kissimmee's mayor, W. A. Steed, and his wife returned from their wedding trip to Key West and Cuba on Monday afternoon. Much surprised were they as the train pulled into Kissimmee to hear the strains of "Here Comes the Bride," as played by the Concert Band. But that was not all, the mayor's auto was compelled to stop at the band stand and a speech had to be given by the mayor, and later a treat handed out from the Central Drug Store. All hail to Mayor Steed and his fair bride.

Thomas Myers Palmer, son of Dr. Henry E. Palmer, Tallahassee, a graduate of the University of Florida, is among the Rhodes scholars to be appointed from the United States, according to the list announced by Prof. Frank Adelotte of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, American secretary to the Rhodes Trustees. The appointments are subject to the ratification of the trustees. The men appointed this year are those who could have gone to Oxford in 1918 and 1919 had it not been for the war. Those selected as of 1918, Thomas being in this group, will enter Oxford in January and those selected of 1919 will enter the university next October. The many friends of the brilliant young man, and his parents are being showered with congratulations upon receiving this distinguished honor, one among the greatest in an educational way.
